A Message from Fr John

Whom do we seek? This is the central question of our spiritual journey. We become what we most desire. This is where we need a prayerful unity both with God and the body of Christ. In our search it is necessary to quieten the strident voices both within and without which try to shape us in ways which are not for our good. We can at times be shocked by some of our thoughts which have translated into ways we did not intend. It is easy to become defensive in our life which can say that we do not sin or that at least we do not sin as gravely as somebody else. Yet in allowing God to meet us at our worst and discovering that we can be healed of our weaknesses. This is why we are called to remember the areas of life we most struggle with when we go to confession. It is not so much that we feel shamed into going but a recognition that on our own we just descend into our own swamp. The Good News is that Jesus Christ meets us in that place and allows us to be healed and accompanied in grace. By knowing our areas of greatest weakness God can assist us to allow his light to shine and we discover that we do not walk this path alone. The sacrament of penance allows us to tell what is most troubling us and in that telling to discover that we can be healed and receive absolution. This is not a get out of jail free card but a way of allowing God to meet us in the place of our greatest weakness which reaches out to bring healing, forgiveness and reconciliation to others we meet.

I would like to thank you for all your best wishes and farewells which have been organised over the last couple of weeks. I deeply appreciate your prayers and encouragement in taking up my new role as Spiritual Director at the Good Shepherd Seminary in Homebush. I will continue to keep you in my prayers and I hope to pop back from time to time. I am sure that you will make Fr. Martins welcome in the parishes and schools.

Fr John Armstrong.

Congratulations to the students celebrating their confirmation this weekend.

May you always love Jesus as He loves you; Trust in Him, pray to Him, make time for just the two of you. Listen to Him, ask Him, invite Him along on your dreams. Celebrate with Him, thank Him, believe in Him and share His wisdom.
