2018, Year of the Youth

Each year, the Church, global or local identifies and focuses attention on an aspect of her life. This year, the Church in Australia through the instrumentality of the Bishops' Conference, has called for the celebration of the Year of the Youth, beginning from 3rd December, 2017 to November 25th 2018; the solemnity of Christ the King with a number of activities in between.

In doing this, the local church offers solidarity with the global church in echoing the dialogue on the subject of the Young, Faith and Vocational Discernment. This is quite timely for many reasons and most of all for the fact that the potential for any societal change rest on the youth who noticeably, are missing from the table of the Eucharist and communal conversation in our context as in most places.

While we are pained by their visible absence, we recognise the available opportunities in our pastoral space: the presence of parents, grand and great grandparents together with the school communities. What a blessing!

In this year of the young, we are invited to be fishers of the youth, just as the early disciples of Jesus in this weekend's were called to be fishers of men. We can achieve this by building a network of support and activities from the family to the church and from the schools to the wider community.

Wishing our youth, the young families and our school communities a happy Year of the Youth!

Submissions for Protection of Religious Freedom

Last month, Prime Minister Turnbull announced the creation of a Review to be led by Philip Ruddock. It will consider 'the intersections between the enjoyment of the freedom of religion and other human rights'. It is important for individuals and groups to voice their concerns by making written submissions. The Panel strongly encourages the use of the online submission form, which can be found at <https://pmc.gov.au/domestic-policy/religious-freedom-review/submission> All submissions must be received by 14 February 2018. For more information got to: <http://cgatholic.org.au/2018/01/protection-religious-freedom>.

Thank you to all parishioners for your participation in celebrating Fr Dominic's birthday. We appreciate your support.
