Today's Gospel message comes from Fr Dominic

In an earlier chapter Jesus enters Jerusalem and its temple and over turns the tables of the money changers and the seats of those who sold pigeons. He is then asked, "by what authority are you acting?" He answers with the question, "was the baptism of John from heaven or from men?" And so, because they cannot answer this they never learn of Jesus' authority. What has happened so far, or more importantly to indicate what is to happen, Jesus tells them the parable of the wicked tenants who rejected the cornerstone. Then Jesus is asked a series of questions, "is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar or not?" "In the resurrection whose wife will she be, for the seven had her as wife?" The question of today's Gospel, "which commandment is the greatest?" is the last in this series. And all these questions and the whole sequence preceding it illustrates that Jesus is overturning their rule, challenging them, and unable to be mastered by them. All along they have only questioned him and now the force behind their rejection has stopped with a question about the law and love. If you want to improve at doing something, then you need to exercise that something. Let us exercise love knowing the sanctity of life.

Code of Conduct

We have been advised by the Institute of Professional Standards and Safeguarding that all parish volunteers and employees are required to read the Archdiocesan Child Protection Code of Conduct and sign an acknowledgement form that you agree to these standards.

Envelopes containing the Code and acknowledgement form have been labelled and are in the foyer (or Tuross box) for you to take home. Care has been taken to include everyone. If I have missed you please let the Parish Office know. Thank you for your continued support.

Thank you to all those who have returned their acknowledgement forms.

The car boot sale, which was held on Saturday 13th October, raised $1560. It has been forwarded to Rural Aid to help our farmers during the drought. Thank you to everyone who assisted on the day.
