Jesus the Healer

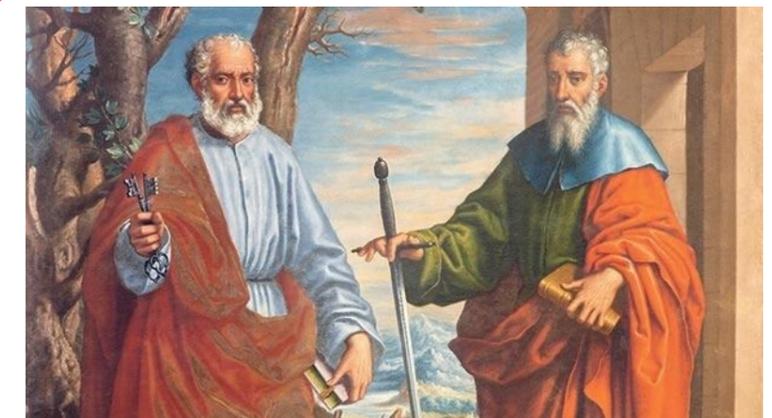

'Young girl, I say to you, arise'.

Today's readings speak of the gift of life, both physical and spiritual, that God has given us. They urge and challenge us to be grateful for our health in body and soul and to use God's gifts of life and health responsibly. The first reading, taken from the Book of Wisdom, tells us that God gave us life and health and it was the jealousy of Satan that produced illness and death. The reading also suggests that the goal of our lives on earth is to know, to love and to serve God here with perfect health in body and soul, and to share God's immortal life forever. In the second reading, St Paul asks the Corinthian Christian community to show the kindness and compassion which Jesus expressed in his healing ministry to their Jewish brothers and sisters in Jerusalem living in poverty and sickness, by raising a fund for them. The generosity of Jesus is the central theme here also, because Paul describes Jesus' life, death and resurrection as "the gracious act of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Feast of Saints Peter and Paul (29 June)

Salt and caramel might seem an odd flavour combination, yet salted caramel has become all the rage today. In this solemnity, Peter and Paul are also combined together with all their differences, yet the resultant mix is powerful. Firstly, Peter was a fisherman and Paul a tent-maker. Peter was among Jesus' first apostles, whereas Paul only after a vision of the risen Christ. In Paul's eyes, Peter took the Good News of Christ to the Jews, whereas he did to the Gentiles. However, both were key figures in the early Christ-following community. After shaky starts, both became leaders and models of faith. Tradition tells us that both were persecuted and died as martyrs in Rome. So put together, Peter and Paul powerfully show us that we might all lead others by faith and example, and that this Good News calls us all the way to the finish line.

Prayer after Communion: Lord, we thank you for coming into our hearts in Communion. We believe you are truly present in the Blessed Sacrament. You are our life and our hope. Draw us more deeply to yourself and transform our hearts through your abiding love. May we come to know Sunday as a special day of faith, the day of our Risen Lord. May our celebration of the Eucharist on Sunday consecrate this day to you.

O Sacrament Most Holy, O Sacrament Divine, All Praise and All Thanksgiving be every moment thine.

LITURGY OF THE WORD

First Reading Wis 1:13-15; 2:23-24

A reading from the book of Wisdom

Death was not God's doing, he takes no pleasure in the extinction of the living.
To be – for this he created all;
the world's created things have health in them, in them no fatal poison can be found, and Hades holds no power on earth;
for virtue is undying.
Yet God did make man imperishable, he made him in the image of his own nature; it was the devil's envy that brought death into the world, as those who are his partners will discover.

Responsorial Psalm Ps 29:2. 4-6. 11-13. R. v.2

R. I will praise you, Lord, for you have rescued me.

1. I will praise you, Lord, you have rescued me and have not let my enemies rejoice over me.
O Lord, you have raised my soul from the dead, restored me to life from those who sink into the grave. (R.)
2. Sing psalms to the Lord, you who love him, give thanks to his holy name.
His anger lasts but a moment: his favour through life.
At night there are tears, but joy comes with dawn.
(R.)
3. The Lord listened and had pity.
The Lord came to my help.
For me you have changed my mourning into dancing,
O Lord my God, I will thank you for ever. (R.)

Second Reading 2 Cor 8:7. 9. 13-15

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

You always have the most of everything – of faith, of eloquence, of understanding, of keenness for any cause, and the biggest share of our affection – so we expect you to put the most into this work of mercy too. Remember how generous the Lord Jesus was: he was rich, but he became poor for your sake, to make you rich out of his poverty. This does not mean that to give relief to others you ought to make things difficult for yourselves: it is a question of balancing what happens to be your surplus now against their present need, and one day they may have something to spare that will supply your own need. That is how we strike a balance: as scripture says: The man who gathered much had none too much, the man who gathered little did not go short.

Gospel Mk 5:21-24. 35-43

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark

When Jesus had crossed in the boat to the other side, a large crowd gathered round him and he stayed by the lakeside. Then one of the synagogue officials came up, Jairus by name, and seeing him, fell at his feet and pleaded with him earnestly, saying, 'My little daughter is desperately sick. Do come and lay your hands on her to make her better and save her life.' Jesus went with him and a large crowd followed him; they were pressing all round him.

Some people arrived from the house of the synagogue official to say, 'Your daughter is dead: why put the Master to any further trouble?' But Jesus had overheard this remark of theirs and he said to the official, 'Do not be afraid; only have faith.' And he allowed no one to go with him except Peter and James and John the brother of James. So they came to the official's house and Jesus noticed all the commotion, with people weeping and wailing unrestrainedly. He went in and said to them, 'Why all this commotion and crying? The child is not dead, but asleep.' But they laughed at him. So he turned them all out and, taking with him the child's father and mother and his own companions, he went into the place where the child lay. And taking the child by the hand he said to her, 'Talitha, kum!' which means, 'little girl, I tell you to get up.' The little girl got up at once and began to walk about, for she was twelve years old. At this they were overcome with astonishment, and he ordered them strictly not to let anyone know about it, and told them to give her something to eat.

THE WORD AND LIFE this week

1. We need to accept God's call to health, wholeness and holiness. All of us, in some way or another, are constantly in need of God's healing. "Healing," "health," and "holiness" are linked words in English.
Jesus accepts us as we are. Hence we need not wait until we have the correct motive and strong faith to bring our problems before Jesus. Let us bring before him our bodily and spiritual wounds and ask for his healing touch. We should pray for healing which will give us health in every aspect of our lives—not just in our bodies—so that we may function in perfect harmony with people around us and with the environment.

2. We need to have trusting faith in the mercy and divine power of Jesus: The primary condition for the effectiveness of our prayer is our faith in the goodness and mercy of God. Such a faith is possible only if we remain related to God through prayer, the sacraments, and a mediative study of the Bible. Every day we should say a fervent prayer of thanksgiving to God for the gift of active faith. Let us keep in mind this wise piece of advice given by St Ignatius of Loyola: "We must work as if everything depends on us, but we must pray as if everything depends on God."

3. We need to continue the healing mission of the Church: The mission of the Church in every age is to continue, with Jesus, His healing work. And members of the Church, none of us is excused from our vocation to be healers. When a friend of ours is terminally ill, the skill of the doctors and their advanced medical tools often become powerless. What the patient needs in such a situation is our care, concern and prayerful presence, enabling them to experience through us the love, compassion and mercy of Jesus.
