

Entrance Antiphon: You are just, O Lord, and your judgement is right; treat your servant in accord with your merciful love.

Communion Antiphon: I am the light of the world, says the Lord; whoever follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life.

First Reading Isaiah 25:6-9

A reading from the book of Isaiah

On this mountain,
the Lord of hosts will prepare for all peoples
a banquet of rich food.
On this mountain he will remove the mourning veil covering all peoples, and the shroud enwrapping all nations,
he will destroy Death for ever.
The Lord will wipe away
the tears from every cheek;
he will take away his people's shame
everywhere on earth,
for the Lord has said so.
That day, it will be said: See, this is our God
in whom we hoped for salvation;
the Lord is the one in whom we hoped.
We exult and we rejoice that he has saved us.

Responsorial Psalm Ps 26:1. 4. 7-9. 13-14. R v.13
(R.) The Lord is my light and my salvation.

1. The Lord is my light and my help;
whom shall I fear?
The Lord is the stronghold of my life;
before whom shall I shrink? (R.)
2. There is one thing I ask of the Lord, for this I long,
to live in the house of the Lord,
all the days of my life,
to savour the sweetness of the Lord,
to behold his temple. (R.)
3. O Lord, hear my voice when I call;
have mercy and answer.
It is your face, O Lord, that I seek;
hide not your face. (R.)
4. I am sure I shall see the Lord’s goodness in the land of the living.
Hope in him, hold firm and take heart.
Hope in the Lord! (R.)

Second Reading Romans 5:5-11

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans

Hope is not deceptive, because the love of God has been poured into our hearts by the Holy Spirit which has been given us. We were still helpless when at his appointed moment Christ died for sinful men. It is not easy to die even for a good man – though of course for someone really worthy, a man might be prepared to die – but what proves that God loves us is that Christ died for us while we were still sinners. Having died to make us righteous, is it likely that he would now fail to save us from God’s anger? When we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, we were still enemies; now that we have been reconciled, surely we may count on being saved by the life of his Son? Not merely because we have been reconciled but because we are filled with joyful trust in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have already gained our reconciliation.

Gospel Acclamation John 3:6
Alleluia, alleluia!
God loved the world so much,
he gave his only Son, Alleluia!

Gospel Luke 7:11-17

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke

Jesus went to a town called Nain, accompanied by his disciples and a great number of people. When he was near the gate of the town it happened that a dead man was being carried out for burial, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. And a considerable number of the townspeople were with her. When the Lord saw her he felt sorry for her. ‘Do not cry,’ he said. Then he went up and put his hand on the bier and the bearers stood still, and he said, ‘Young man, I tell you to get up’. And the dead man sat up and began to talk, and Jesus gave him to his mother. Everyone was filled with awe and praised God saying, ‘A great prophet has appeared among us; God has visited his people.’ And this opinion of him spread throughout Judaea and all over the countryside.

REMEMBERING OUR LOVED ONES IN THE MONTH OF ALL SOULS

Dear Parishioners,
As we come to the Commemoration of All Souls, and as we enter this special month of remembrance, my heart turns to each of you and the loved ones you hold dear. This is a time to pause, to remember, and to entrust those who have gone before us to the tender mercy of God, who knows every sorrow and every love. Our faith reminds us that death does not end the bonds we share. Through the communion of saints, we remain connected with those who have gone before us. Every prayer we offer, every act of kindness we perform, and every Mass celebrated for the departed becomes a loving bridge between this life and the next. In these simple but profound gestures, we help our loved ones on their journey toward God’s light—and we are strengthened in our own hope of resurrection.

This month, I invite you to weave these prayers into your days. Have a Mass offered for someone you love, or for those who have no one to pray for them. Pray the Rosary or spend a moment in quiet reflection for the souls of the faithful departed. And in your everyday acts—helping a neighbour, sharing a kind word, offering your time or care—hold your loved ones in your heart and offer these deeds for them. Even our smallest gestures, when offered with love, can bring comfort to those who have died.

May this month bring you consolation and peace, and may the Lord fill your hearts with hope and joy. Let us keep our loved ones close in prayer, trusting in God’s mercy, and remain open to the promise of eternal life together.

With my prayer, care, and blessing,
Fr. Josh

Unity with Many Voices

A synodal Church holds unity and diversity together. We are one Body in Christ, yet each person brings unique gifts that enrich the whole community.

Reflection: Do I value the different voices and gifts in my parish?

Prayer: Holy Spirit, help us to be one in Christ while honouring our differences.
