Reflection

You Shall Love the Lord your God. The commandment to love God with all one's being is kept constantly before the Jewish people, it is recited daily in prayer; and written on a small scroll, it is worn on their person and enshrined at the entrance to their homes. To observe this commandment our love must embrace the whole of creation, especially our fellow human beings made in God's image.

Memorial Liturgy

Welcome to our Liturgy today as we give thanks for the life and death of our loved ones who have died in the past twelve months, as well as our deceased family and friends.

"The souls of the just are in the hand of God."

Wisdom 3: 1

When we grieve the loss of those we love, our faith reassures us that we remain connected, held together in the love of our gracious God. And so our prayers go with them as they journey home to the One whose love embraces us all.

May perpetual light shine upon them and may they rest in peace.

Remember, those who die go no further from us than God, and God is very near." (Anon)

Reflection—The Dead Bless Us

"I feel that our friends amongst the dead really mind us and look out for us. ... They are now in a place where there is no more shadow, darkness, loneliness, isolation or pain. They are home. They are with God from whom they came. They have returned to the nest of their identity within the great circle of God. God is the greatest circle of all, the largest embrace in the universe which holds visible and invisible, temporal and eternal as one. In the eternal world all is one. In spiritual space there is no distance. In eternal time there is no segmentation into today, yesterday or tomorrow. In eternal time all is now; time is presence. I believe that this is what eternal life means: it is a life where all that we seek, goodness, unity, beauty, truth and love, are no longer distant from us but are now completely present with us."
