RESPONSORIAL PSALM: 26:1. 7-9. 13-14

The Lord is my light and my salvation.
The Lord is my light and my help;
whom shall I fear?
The Lord is the stronghold of my life;
before whom shall I shrink?
O Lord, hear my voice when I call;
have mercy and answer.
Of you my heart has spoken:
'Seek his face.'
It is your face, O Lord, that I seek;
hide not your face.
Dismiss not your servant in anger;
you have been my help.
I am sure I shall see the Lord's goodness
in the land of the living.
Hope in him, hold firm and take heart.
Hope in the Lord!
The Lord is my light and my salvation.

The Easter Season is a very special time in the Church year. The choir has begun preparations for the Easter season on Mondays at 7.30 pm in the church. Just one hour. You do not have to be a singer to come along and join in. Phone 61617100 if you would like to know more.

The smile on my face doesn't mean my life is perfect. It means I appreciate what I have and what I have been blessed with. I choose to be happy.

HOMILY | Katy Beedle Rice

We began the Lenten season on Ash Wednesday with the words of the prophet Joel: "Even now, says the Lord, return to me with your whole heart." In Lent, we enter into a journey of conversion. Through prayer, almsgiving and fasting, we prepare our hearts to encounter the Lord of life in his risen glory at the feast that crowns our whole year. Each Easter Vigil, along with the catechumens who are baptized, we celebrate the moment in our own lives when we (or our parents and godparents, speaking on our behalf) proclaimed our intention to live (with our whole hearts) as children of light. When catechumens and candidates are welcomed in the Rite of Acceptance and state their desire for baptism, part of the ritual calls for their sponsors to place the sign of the cross over each of their senses, marking them as followers of Christ. As the eyes are signed, the presider says, "Receive the sign of the cross on your eyes that you may see the glory of God." In today's first reading and Gospel, we have two instances of human beings contemplating the wonder of the divine through the gift of sight. In the Gospel reading, Peter, John and James are also treated to a revelation of God's glory in the Transfiguration. On the mountain, in prayer, Jesus is transformed from the humble preacher and wonderworker they had come to know, to a man clothed in "dazzling white" who converses with Moses and Elijah. Inside of a cloud, they hear the words: "This is my chosen Son; listen to him." Abram, Peter, John and James are each offered glimpses into the divine life of God. When Abram wakes up the next morning, the stars he gazed at in wonder will no longer be visible. As James, John and Peter make their way down the mountain, they are accompanied by their friend Jesus, no longer remarkable in his clothing or conversation partners. And yet, we know the stars remain even when we cannot see them. And Jesus, whether he is found in a manger as a vulnerable infant, resplendent on a mountain top, or nailed to the wood of the cross, is always the Son of God. In the spiritual life, we might intend to live as children of the light, but unless we have eyes to see and ears to hear God working in our midst, we miss the opportunity to live into the fullness of life which Jesus promises to his followers. Poet Brian Doyle wrote in A Book of Uncommon Prayer, "We are handed miracles beyond number, every blessed moment, if only we can train ourselves to open and see and hear and taste and feel and smell and absorb them." As we journey toward the joy of Easter, may our eyes be opened to glory of God present all around us. May we recommit with our whole hearts to live as children of light.

ST VINCENT DE PAUL

It has been a big few weeks for Vinnies in this Parish with our annual Door-knock Appeal and our associated collecting at the Canberra Show. Thanks to the generosity of this parish and our friends at St Brigid's at Dickson, we raised an incredible $9090. As ever, the Society is very thankful for the support of our wonderful parishioners. In addition, we raised $2847 from the broader community at our Canberra Show stall. So that is almost $12,000 to assist the needy in our community. A great result.

GLOWING WITH GOD

Second Sunday of Lent.

Fr Duncan Campbell OP helps us to understand the transfiguration as an experience of prayer.

Why did Jesus appear, suddenly, and so changed, to his closest followers? The gospels are meant to raise these questions. They were written, to report the strangest and most important event in human history, something quite unlike anything else we are told. That was the point of writing them.

Let's ask the questions. Why did this happen? We might answer by saying - Jesus, their Lord and Master, was to be condemned as a blasphemer and rebel, mocked, publicly flogged, and hung, naked, to die horribly on a Roman gibbet. His followers would need some reminder of who he really was, to see them through this ordeal.

Why were they told to keep silent about their vision? Perhaps because they simply wouldn't be believed, until much more wonderful things happened. These would make something like this scene make sense, and be believed. Jesus was to rise from a tomb, appear to many other followers, tell them to preach - invite others to believe that after death there is life with God.

There are little niggling questions, however. How did Peter know that the two strangers talking to Jesus were Moses and Elijah? We don't know. We may be in a world nearer to God than ours, with more knowledge of God, and God's affairs, than we now have. Jesus was the divine being Peter had already recognised. Moses brought the Law - the way to live with God. He never was seen to die. Elijah, the greatest of the Prophets - 'spokesmen' for God - didn't die. He was spectacularly 'assumed' out of this world. All this could have helped Peter to know who they must be. I shouldn't fumble with a mystery, but I could suggest that there might have been hints in their appearance.

We for example have the idea, from somewhere, that Peter had curly hair, and Paul was bald. We might recognise them when we meet them in heaven.

What did Peter mean by suggesting they make three booths? It was the custom to camp out in booths, to keep guard, over the harvest. Peter wanted these wonderful beings to stay, and keep guard over us, for ever. It was not to be. 'He didn't know what he was saying'.

A Voice - we might think of them all as being 'within earshot' of God - called Jesus the 'chosen one'. In Hebrew, the words 'chosen one', 'beloved'.

Jesus wasn't just the 'traveller' they might have become very familiar with - a tramp, always on the road, sleeping rough, leaving his friends so hungry at times to plucking grains of corn. Worst of all, he faced formidable opposition from the authorities. He was presented in this wonderful scene, a majestic one - Law, Psalms, Prophet.

The point, for us all, was that Jesus was praying. We too can pray, especially with the help of the Law, the Psalms and the Prophets. When we pray - to God - a light must shine in the world of the spirit, and we are transfigured ourselves, and in such majestic company. Whenever we think of God a flash of recognition must reach us from God - and God from us. I hope we have all had some glimpse of this when we pray, and 'know what we are saying'.

We are recognised - and recognise. We are loved - and love. We are spoken to - and speak, words given to us by Jesus, Moses, and Elijah.

Jesus' triumphed. He redeemed us. He atoned to God for us, in loving obedience. He clearly showed us this, in resurrection. We are now allowed to make the 'booths' Peter wanted - our parish churches, basilicas, and magnificent cathedrals, for Jesus, Moses and the Prophets.

We add the Saints. They lived with all this. They glowed, with God. Artists painted them with 'haloes' to suggest this.

They didn't walk about with haloes. They looked ordinary - even Jesus. Their glory couldn't be seen, while they lived with us. This can help us understand that the glory, in our lives with God, may not be seen by others, when we pray, and become saints ourselves.

INCLUDING YOUTH | Jim Auer

Most young people remember a time when God and faith made sense, and things felt right in their religious sphere. Then, they grew up into a culture that either questions that experience or discounts its importance in the "real world." Invite speculation on what might have happened if Abram, Peter, James and John had given in to later doubts about whether their experiences were real or meant anything. What would they have lost had they returned to the world of simply shepherding and fishing? It is not easy for youth to see the "the big picture" or "the long run" in a culture that emphasizes "right here, right now."
