Reflection: 11th Sunday

The nearness of the kingdom (or reign) of God is the central plank of the teaching of Jesus in Mark's Gospel.

In the Old Testament, the imagery of the reign of God had an apocalyptic dimension; it was to come to fullness at the end times when the wicked would be punished and the faithful vindicated. Only then would there be a new heaven and a new Earth. The message in Mark's Gospel however, is quite different. Jesus proclaims that the kingdom of God has already begun. It is among us now. 'This is the time of fulfillment. The kingdom of God is at hand' (Mk 1:15). Like the seed planted, it takes root and grows mysteriously into something much larger than itself. The kingdom or reign is a gracious gift from God brought near in Christ and demanding a response of faith from those who recognise the truth of his word. The kingdom offers a challenge; like the man who sowed the seed, we must be ready to cooperate in God's work when the harvest time comes.

The mystery of the kingdom of God is at the heart of this reading. Humans cannot understand how it will grow and spread, but, once planted, it will prosper as the seed does, taking root and growing to fullness. What begins as a tiny seed like the mustard seed, will grow into something much larger and offer shelter for all.
