Pope Francis on discernment

Dear brothers and sisters, good morning!

In these catecheses on discernment we are reviewing the elements of discernment. After prayer, one element, and self-knowledge, another element, that is, praying and knowing oneself, today I would like to talk about another indispensable, so to speak, “ingredient”: today I would like to talk about desire. In fact, discernment is a form of searching, and searching always stems from something we lack but somehow know, that we intuit, the deep longing for happiness and fulfilment present in the human heart. In our spiritual tradition, desire is seen as evidence of our innate yearning for God and the peace that he alone can give: a kind of compass directing our lives to their ultimate goal. In seeking the Lord and trusting in his promises, we find the strength to persevere amid difficulties, to accept sacrifices joyfully, and to strive in all things to live in accordance with his will. In the Gospels, Jesus often asks those who seek a miracle what it is that they ask of him (e.g., Mk 10:51). Our own dialogue with the Lord in prayer helps us to articulate our inmost desires and to allow him to work miracles of grace and healing in our lives. For that is Jesus’ own greatest desire: to make us sharers in his own divine life and to enable us to find, in him, our eternal happiness and fulfilment.

The Year of Walking Together

The icon on the front cover of the Voice pictures the Gospel of the Road to Emmaus. It is a fitting Gospel for us to contemplate as our Church undertakes preparation for the World Synod on Synodality (walking together). Archbishop Prowse is calling us to walk together as members of the Church. Let us firstly pray for the coming Synod, where there will be bishops and lay faithful, meeting together to explore this ancient Church tradition.

Catholic Missions

The “Missions” are part of our Catholic way of life. From our earliest years we have been encouraged to remember the Missions. The Missions consist of missionaries who leave their own home and country and go to work sharing the Good News with people in far off lands. The Missions include the people to whom the missionaries go to. The needs of the Missions are the same as they have always been. Sharing the Good News is both ministering to the daily needs of people for food, clothing and shelter as well as catechising them with God’s love. World Mission Sunday is next week.

MARRIAGE: We pray for God’s blessing for Emma Tangye and Richard Roberson who will be married at Moonbah next weekend, 22nd October 2022.
