Prayer for Vocations:

Christ the Good Shepherd, high priest of the Church, God the Holy Spirit, source of wisdom and understanding, Guide young people as they discern their vocation, Give them the wisdom to discover your plan for them, and courage to embrace your will.
Give to the Church wise and holy priests, deacons and religious sisters and brothers, So that your Gospel may be taken to the ends of the earth, Your flock built up in faith and hope and love, and your name praised without ceasing. Amen

Exploring The Word

25 Sunday, reflection At first reading, this text is very puzzling. How can dishonesty be so rewarded? The action in the text is easier to understand when we know something of how commerce was conducted at the time. According to Jewish Law, it was not permissible to charge interest. To get around this, the practice developed of increasing the original debt to cover what would have been a normal interest rate. What the cunning steward has done is to reduce the debt to the level of the original loan. The Master will be paid his due according to the Law, but no more. If the Master complained of this action, his sin would come to light.

The real criticism in this text is directed to those who have been entrusted with the riches of God's kingdom and have not used them well. The point is that all who are called to share the riches of the kingdom must commit themselves to careful administration of those inestimable treasures. This is much more important than administering the riches of this world.

- In what ways can money be used in our world to create barriers between people or to break down barriers between people?
- Pope John Paul II often spoke of aspiring to 'be more' rather than to 'have more'? Pope Francis has said, 'Money has to serve, not to rule.' What do you think they meant by these comments? Explore the implications.

MAKING CONNECTIONS.

Are you the sort of person on whom others can rely, whether it is for little things or great things?

- On what are your real friendships based?
- What is the single most important thing in your life?
- Use your talents for others this week. Be good stewards of creation and act in an ecologically sound way.
