Feast of the Transfiguration - 6 August

What is the Feast of the Transfiguration all about? Significantly, Jesus took with him up the mountain Peter, later to be martyred, who would become head of the newly founded church; James, also martyred, who would become the first bishop of Jerusalem and John, not martyred, would be given the care of Mary, Jesus' mother; would write the fourth gospel containing so much of the discourse of Jesus at the Last Supper and would be there to guide the church as it moved into further years of growth. With dazzling light, these three were given a glimpse of the divinity of Jesus - an indescribable privilege. But as the words of Moses and Elijah pointed to the passion and death of Jesus, Peter, James and John may well have wondered what life might hold for them, too, as followers of their Master. Undoubtedly silent and unable to make sense of the dazzling experience they had just witnessed, they were disappointed that Jesus would not allow them to stay on high. Their place was back with the crowd at the foot of the mountain. Jesus went even further, warning them to tell no one what they had seen.

So ... what of us? What can we take from this feast? Most of us belong with the ordinary crowd at the foot of the mountain. No great transfiguring moment for us! BUT Jesus offers us, too, tiny moments of transfiguration as we live our lives; tiny sparks that, if we are open and receptive to these gifts from Jesus, we will come to know him better, to understand what he is offering us so that we, too, can say with Peter, James and John "It is good for us to be here!"

St Mary of the Cross - 8 August

Whatever troubles may be before you, accept them cheerfully, remembering whom you are trying to follow. Do not be afraid. Love one another, bear with one another, and let charity guide you in all your life. – St Mary MacKillop

St Mary MacKillop was remarkable as a strong female leader in 19th century Australia. Her vision was to provide education for underprivileged children and inspired by Mary, many other women came to join her in this mission. Her first classroom was in a disused stable in Penola, SA. There, Mary and Fr Julian Tenison-Woods founded Australia's first religious order, the Sisters of St Joseph of the Sacred Heart. Mary and her sisters were committed to serving the poor, going to where the need was. She carried her love for teaching and serving the poor throughout her life.

Mary knew what it meant to bear troubles joyfully. She almost lost her life's work and her religious community, experiencing difficulties with acceptance by some priests and bishops. She was even excommunicated, yet she didn't give up her faith or joy.

As we face struggles in our lives, may we remember St Mary MacKillop's unwavering courage and let charity be our guide. May we bear our troubles cheerfully remembering that obstacles are an invitation to trust in our loving God.

Parish Safeguarding News

As some of you may remember, last year Catholic Professional Standards Ltd (CPSL) issued a document outlining the Standards that all Catholic entities, including dioceses, services and agencies, are required to meet, in terms of safeguarding children. Entities are audited on these Standards and the results are made public. This level of transparency and accountability is largely thanks to the recommendations from the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse.

Now CPSL has released a second edition of these Standards, which includes requirements and practices for how Catholic entities must safeguard and protect adults at risk, previously referred to as 'vulnerable adults', as well as children.

You can read this edition through the following link:

CPSL is asking for feedback on the second edition. In these COVID-19 times there is a formal stakeholder consultation occurring, but anyone can complete a survey about this new edition of the Standards, available on the CPSL website. I encourage those interested to do so.

The Standards cover topics such as governance, HR, ongoing training, participation of and communication with children and families, and continuous improvement.

We are all responsible for the safety and protection of children and adults at risk in our Parish community. They have a right to be welcomed, cared for and supported, as Jesus showed throughout his life.
