HOPEFUL IN THE RISEN AND GLORIFIED CHRIST

The Ascension is not to be interpreted literally. Rather it teaches a theological truth which has its genesis in the Old Testament. Luke, the author of both the Gospel and the Acts of the Apostles, draws on the departure of the Old Testament prophet Elijah in presenting the end of the earthly ministry of Jesus and the start of the Church's mission. In 2 Kings 2:1-18, Elijah blessed his disciples, promised a share of the Spirit and was carried up to heaven without experiencing death. The hope was that Elijah would return as the Messiah. Luke presents Jesus, who has conquered death, bless his disciples and promise to send the Spirit to continue his mission before returning as triumphant Lord (Acts 1:11). Our Second Reading addresses the same reality with Jesus entering the sanctuary of heaven once and for all, unlike the priests of the old covenant who each year on the Day of Atonement entered the innermost sanctuary of the Temple for purification of the Chosen People. Jesus is the fulfilment of the hopes of the Chosen People and indeed for all peoples and this is expressed in ways that the audience could relate to. “Communicated here is, of course, a vision of the future, an act of hope. The forces hostile to God and to true humanity have by no means yet been fully overcome. The essential blow has been struck in the Paschal victory of Jesus but his messianic work continues as he breathes his Spirit into the Church that carries on his mission. What the Church [we] must understand – what the Ascension assures her – is that accompanying all her labour and suffering is the victory of the risen Lord, who now stands at the right hand of God interceding on behalf of all (Rom 8:34)” (Brendan Byrne). The English Catholic journal ‘The Tablet’ is celebrating 185 years. In the 24 May 2025 edition a variety of folk shared reflections about their hopes for the next 15 years. The former MP Oliver Letwin spoke of his concerns about the breakdown of a rules-based international order as a result of chauvinist regimes and domestic insecurities which “disregard moral human rights and international law”. His hope is for the resurrection of the rule of law, low-tariff global trade and of liberalism. There were hopes for a reform of the overcrowded prison system (Andy Keen-Downs CBE, is CEO of the prison charity, Pact) and for “a more contemplative rather than a technological and material approach to reality” (Tomas Halik, Czech priest, philosopher and theologian). Especially telling was the reflection of Frank Cottrell-Boyce, the UK's children's laureate for 2024-2026 who said, “We have no idea about the kind of future we are sending our children into. We don't know what work will look like, what community, communications or relationships will look like. We have no idea what kind of climate they will live in. But we do know that they will need all the things that only faith can bring – a sense of being loved, being consequential, of having purpose and of belonging.” Knowing that God's Spirit leads us and that we are called to to be ‘Pilgrims of Hope’ in this Jubilee Year, it is timely to ask what are my hopes? And what will I do to bring them to birth?

Fr John

ENCOUNTERING THE PSALMS: Parishioner, Dr Glenn Burns will present a talk on the Psalms at the Orana Centre after the 9:30am St Vincent's Mass on Thursday 12 June and again at the Mariam Hall, adjacent to St Matthew's Church, on Tuesday 17 June at 7.30pm. The presentation will not be a sermon or a theological lecture but rather an overview of the Psalms so as to deepen our understanding of these prayers we proclaim at each Mass.

Entrance Antiphon

Men of Galilee, why gaze in wonder at the heavens?
This Jesus whom you saw ascending into heaven will return as you saw him go, alleluia.

First Reading Acts of the Apostles 1:1-11

In my earlier work, Theophilus, I dealt with everything Jesus had done and taught from the beginning until the day he gave his instructions to the apostles he had chosen through the Holy Spirit, and was taken up to heaven. He had shown himself alive to them after his Passion by many demonstrations: for forty days he had continued to appear to them and tell them about the kingdom of God. When he had been at table with them, he had told them not to leave Jerusalem, but to wait there for what the Father had promised. 'It is,' he had said, 'what you have heard me speak about: John baptised with water but you, not many days from now, will be baptised with the Holy Spirit.'

Now having met together, they asked him, 'Lord, has the time come? Are you going to restore the kingdom to Israel?' He replied, 'It is not for you to know times or dates that the Father has decided by his own authority, but you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you, and then you will be my witnesses not only in Jerusalem but throughout Judaea and Samaria, and indeed to the ends of the earth.'

As he said this he was lifted up while they looked on, and a cloud took him from their sight. They were still staring into the sky when suddenly two men in white were standing near them and they said, 'Why are you men from Galilee standing here looking into the sky? Jesus who has been taken up from you into heaven, this same Jesus will come back in the same way as you have seen him go there.'

Responsorial Psalm

(R.) God mounts his throne to shouts of joy:
a blare of trumpets for the Lord.

(L.) All peoples, clap your hands,
cry to God with shouts of joy!
For the Lord, the Most High, we must fear, great king over all the earth. (R.)

(R.) God goes up with shouts of joy;
the Lord goes up with trumpet blast.
Sing praise for God, sing praise,
sing praise to our king, sing praise. (R.)

(L.) God is king of all the earth.
Sing praise with all your skill.
God is king over the nations;
God reigns on his holy throne. (R.)

Second Reading Ephesians 1:17-23

May the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, give you a spirit of wisdom and perception of what is revealed, to bring you to full knowledge of him. May he enlighten the eyes of your mind so that you can see what hope his call holds for you, what rich glories he has promised the saints will inherit and how infinitely great is the power that he has exercised for us believers. This you can tell from the strength of his power at work in Christ, when he used it to raise him from the dead and to make him sit at his right hand, in heaven, far above every Sovereignty, Authority, Power, or Domination, or any other name that can be named, not only in this age, but also in the age to come. He has put all things under his feet, and made him, as the ruler of everything, the head of the Church; which is his body, the fullness of him who fills the whole creation.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

Go and teach all people my gospel.

I am with you always, until the end of the world.

Alleluia!

Gospel Luke 24:46-53

Jesus said to his disciples: 'You see how it is written that the Christ would suffer and on the third day rise from the dead, and that, in his name, repentance for the forgiveness of sins would be preached to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem. You are witnesses to this.

'And now I am sending down to you what the Father has promised. Stay in the city then, until you are clothed with the power from on high.' Then he took them out as far as the outskirts of Bethany, and lifting up his hands he blessed them. Now as he blessed them, he withdrew from them and was carried up to heaven. They worshipped him and then went back to Jerusalem full of joy; and they were continually in the Temple praising God.

Communion Antiphon

Behold, I am with you always,

even to the end of the age, alleluia.

---

Commissioning of Ministers of Holy Communion: We have listened to God's word in today's liturgy, and now you carry to our sick brothers and sisters the body of Christ. May you reverence what you carry, as you bear the healing Eucharist of the Lord who gave his life that we may have life to the full.
