Dear Parishioners and Visitors to Saint Christopher's Cathedral Parish,

Today a new year in the Church begins with the season of Advent, and with it, renewed hope as we prepare the way of the Lord.

On the eve of Christmas 1944, in a solitary confinement cell in a Berlin prison, a young Jesuit sat praying. The Allies final assault on Nazi Germany was about to begin, and this young priest sat in his cell preparing a homily... a homily he would never preach. Father Alfred Delp had bravely denounced the Nazi regime; tortured and interrogated by the Gestapo he later wrote, I was left little more than a "bleeding whimper." And yet, in the midst of this reign of darkness Delp held a persistent hope, a longing, an Advent for the Truth which always pierces the night. Indeed for Father Delp "...all of life is Advent".

In his last meditation, on Christmas Eve, a month before his execution, Delp asked, "How many today could honestly appear at the manger? Most have absolutely no desire to do so... [for] the small, scanty door does not let anyone riding a high horse get through."

For Fr. Delp Advent was an "Advent of the heart". More than just preparing us for Christmas, it was a "spiritual way", a way of life. A way where our personal, social and historical situations, even our own deep suffering, offer us entry into the true Advent, that is, the journey toward a meeting and dialogue with God. But our hearts must seek the Child first. Delp's own life and sufferings, witnessed the true Advent he wrote about. Advent is the time for being deeply shaken he echoed—the time not only to remember the birth of Jesus, but to participate in this present unfolding and ultimate revelation of God that began in the Holy Night. Our God has come so close, he dwells in the midst of the life we live... now! A God born into our broken, chaotic history... a history that this Child now reorders.

"We run the risk of concealing Christmas behind bourgeois customs and sentimentality... What this celebration is about is the founding of a final order for the world, a new centre of meaning for all existence. [We are celebrating] the fact that God has spoken His ultimate Word to the world. Christ is the ultimate Word of God to the world."

And so what does this mean for us? John the Baptist had confessed "I am not he" to those who hoped he was the Saviour of Israel (Acts 13:25), and so too must we, Father Delp wrote; with vulnerability and honesty. He described this as "the Advent of the heart." The Advent which shapes us into being more human. This is the first step to becoming who we truly are; to admit and accept that we are not, nor do not have the answer, but that this Child born to us IS and does.

The Incarnation of our God is not once-upon-a-time, but here and now – we are preparing for a new world order... the true Advent. Delp described this as a "density of life": life brimming with a joy that opens us to encounter the life of God. A joy that no earthly darkness can destroy.

God meets us where we are, He comes in the Child we now await in joyful hope. And this changes everything! In this way, our whole life is an Advent, a preparation. My hope for you in this beautiful season, is that you encounter Christ in a way you never have before. That you see your life as God does and as Delp described – that the last word in the midst of an often confusing and dark world, belongs to the Child who lies in the manger... and you belong to Him. Let us not be distracted by the passing world and its worries, but comforted and strengthened by the One who comes to us in that same world. For the tinsel of Christmas is never enough for the human heart... but this humble Child is.

A Bless Advent to all, and know always of your priests' prayers for you.

Fr Trenton

Readings of the Day – First Sunday of Advent —Year A

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON: To you, I lift up my soul, O my God. In you, I have trusted; let me not be put to shame. Nor let my enemies exult over me; and let none who hope in you be put to shame.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: Let us go rejoicing to the house of the Lord.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION: Alleluia, alleluia! Lord, show us your mercy and love, and grant us your salvation. Alleluia!

COMMUNION ANTIPHON: The Lord will bestow his bounty, and our earth shall yield its increase.

First Reading

Is 2:1-5

The vision of Isaiah son of Amoz, concerning Judah and Jerusalem. In the days to come the mountain of the Temple of the Lord shall tower above the mountains and be lifted higher than the hills. All the nations will stream to it, peoples without number will come to it; and they will say: 'Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the Temple of the God of Jacob that he may teach us his ways so that we may walk in his paths; since the Law will go out from Zion, and the oracle of the Lord from Jerusalem.' He will wield authority over the nations and adjudicate between many peoples; these will hammer their swords into ploughshares, their spears into sickles. Nation will not lift sword against nation, there will be no more training for war. O House of Jacob, come, let us walk in the light of the Lord.

Second Reading

Rom 13:11-14

You know 'the time' has come: you must wake up now: our salvation is even nearer than it was when we were converted. The night is almost over, it will be daylight soon – let us give up all the things we prefer to do under the cover of the dark; let us arm ourselves and appear in the light. Let us live decently as people do in the daytime: no drunken orgies, no promiscuity or licentiousness, and no wrangling or jealousy. Let your armour be the Lord Jesus Christ.

Gospel Reading

Mt 24:37-44

Jesus said to his disciples: 'As it was in Noah's day, so will it be when the Son of Man comes. For in those days before the Flood people were eating, drinking, taking wives, taking husbands, right up to the day Noah went into the ark, and they suspected nothing till the Flood came and swept all away. It will be like this when the Son of Man comes. Then of two men in the fields one is taken, one left; of two women at the millstone grinding, one is taken, one left. 'So stay awake, because you do not know the day when your master is coming. You may be quite sure of this that if the householder had known at what time of the night the burglar would come, he would have stayed awake and would not have allowed anyone to break through the wall of his house. Therefore, you too must stand ready because the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.'
