ADVENT - The Season of HOPE!

Friends, today marks a new year in the liturgical calendar - the season of Hope - Advent. And it comes at the end of a year which has left many with an overwhelming feeling of uncertainty, disruption and even hopelessness. 2020 has certainly 'woken us up', to use an image from the Gospel. However now comes the great promise, the joyful truth which God echoes in every heart! And that promise, is of a God who comes close, bringing hope, especially to places where hope seems most unlikely!

In this first week of Advent, Jesus repeats a warning to his disciples, "stay awake!" But what is it we must be awake to? Of course, all those things that so often take our hearts and minds away from love of him: indifference, inner apathy and lukewarmness, and of course the sin that clings so easily (Heb 12:1). But perhaps this year, more than ever, we are called to awake to the temptation and deception of... hopelessness.

The word Advent comes from the Latin adventus, and while often simply rendered as a time of waiting and preparation, this word's origins indicate an even richer meaning with significant implications for the gospel message. A form of the verb advenio, meaning to arrive, come to, or even develop - adventus can also mean an invasion, ripening, or appearing.

Advent is the time of God's breaking into the human experience and all it entails. Its twists and turns, its joys and immense sorrows. Our God does not stay far off, nor distant like the ancient greek idea of the gods of old. Rather, fearlessly, and lovingly he comes so close, becoming a helpless infant, and so the Hope and Light of the world.

The use of adventus in the military homecomings in the ancient world is particularly interesting. In Rome, adventus, was used to describe the 'glorious entry' of an emperor back into his capital, often after military victory. In this vein, Advent speaks of the Mystery of God who came and continues to come to us, he 'invades' we could say, the darkness, poverty and mess of my life and your life, here and now. Hope born into hopelessness. Entering back among his own; back to claim that which is truly his, you and I. Advent is thus the time to prepare and remind our hearts of the Hope which invades an otherwise hopeless world.

So let us "stay awake", attentive in the most subtle moments of our lives, to the voice of Love which breaks into the world of flesh and blood. The world of pandemic and uncertainty. Let us be attentive to God who here and now, comes to us!

2020 has given us moments to reflect on the uncertainty of our lives and life in general. However now, in the gift of Advent, it is the time to reflect on The Certainty. The Certainty who now has a face and a Name, entering into our midst.

May we have a blessed and hope-filled Advent - wherever we find ourselves. And let us pray that the peace which only this Child can give, may invade every human heart, which in hope, joyfully awaits his Coming.

Readings of the Day – 1st Sunday of Advent —Year B

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON: To you, I lift up my soul, O my God. In you, I have trusted; let me not be put to shame. Nor let my enemies exult over me; and let none who hope in you be put to shame.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: Lord, make us turn to you, let us see your face and we shall be saved.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION: Alleluia, alleluia! Lord, show us your mercy and love, and grant us your salvation. Alleluia!

COMMUNION ANTIPHON: The Lord will bestow his bounty, and our earth shall yield its increase.

First Reading

Is 63:16-17; 64:1. 3-8

You, Lord, yourself are our Father, Our Redeemer is your ancient name. Why, Lord, leave us to stray from your ways and harden our hearts against fearing you? Return, for the sake of your servants, the tribes of your inheritance. Oh, that you would tear the heavens open and come down – at your Presence the mountains would melt. No ear has heard, no eye has seen any god but you act like this for those who trust him. You guide those who act with integrity and keep your ways in mind. You were angry when we were sinners; we had long been rebels against you. We were all like men unclean, all that integrity of ours like filthy clothing. We have all withered like leaves and our sins blew us away like the wind. No one invoked your name or roused himself to catch hold of you. For you hid your face from us and gave us up to the power of our sins. And yet, Lord, you are our Father; we the clay, you the potter, we are all the work of your hand.

Second Reading

1 Cor 1:3-9

May God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ send you grace and peace. I never stop thanking God for all the graces you have received through Jesus Christ. I thank him that you have been enriched in so many ways, especially in your teachers and preachers; the witness to Christ has indeed been strong among you so that you will not be without any of the gifts of the Spirit while you are waiting for our Lord Jesus Christ to be revealed; and he will keep you steady and without blame until the last day, the day of our Lord Jesus Christ, because God by calling you has joined you to his Son, Jesus Christ; and God is faithful.

Gospel Reading

Mk 13:33-37

Jesus said to his disciples: 'Be on your guard, stay awake, because you never know when the time will come. It is like a man travelling abroad: he has gone from home, and left his servants in charge, each with his own task; and he has told the doorkeeper to stay awake. So stay awake, because you do not know when the master of the house is coming, evening, midnight, cockcrow, dawn; if he comes unexpectedly, he must not find you asleep. And what I say to you I say to all: Stay awake!'
